THURSDAY MORNING MAY 12 1864

Commendable and Encouraging

Since we began to receive news of the great battle in Virginia, a great change seems to have been effected in the minds of many of our Democratic fellow citizens Till very recently, they have expressed no sympathy with the Government, and have in some cases even denounced the action of the military authorities as vain and unworthy of an enlightened and Christian nation They begin now, however, to perceive that the only way to a successful peace is through an honorable war, and therefore they ardently welcome any intelligence which proves that the war is prosecuted with vigor, and that the rebel foe is likely to meet the just vengeance of violated law They seem to perceive, if never before, that the time has come, when to advocate peace without a full and complete victory, is to advocate national ruin and that any suspension of the most active and zealous hostilities on our part, would only strengthen the rebellion prolong the war and bring shame upon the Republic Therefore they say, putting aside so far as the war is concerned, all merely political questions, that they hope to hear that Lee is thoroughly defeated, the rebel army captured or scattered in fragments, and Richmond in the hands of Grant or Butler. Such a view is sensible; it is patriotic and it is merciful It is clear that the war must go on till the rebellion closes either voluntarily or by compulsion. No question of life or treasure—of blood or cost, can for an instant interfere with its progress. It may seem to be a hard and desperate alternative, which is thus to end upon us, but we cannot evade it The Union must be saved, though in accomplishing this every rebel should be swept from the face of the earth The South had better be desolated, than that the principles of free Government should perish War is terrible, but anarchy and rebellion are worse, the only way open to us, therefore, is to make the war do its work thoroughly and speedily

Letter from Geo T Strong, Esq.

The following communication from the Treasurer of the U S Sanitary Commission, who, in the absence of Dr Bellows, conducts the correspondence of the Commission, explains itself, and will show to the patriotic contributors to the Sanitary Fund in Oregon and Washington Territory, that their generosity is justly appreciated

No 68 Wall Street New York,
April 5th, 1864.

My Dear Sir —I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of the 27th February, inclosing currency and drafts amounting to twelve hundred 12 100 dollars ($1 200 12) contributed by citizens of Washington Territory and Oregon in aid of the objects of the Sanitary Commission

Please to accept the sincere thanks of the Commission for this generous contribution to its means, and allow us moreover to express our obligations to yourself personally for the steady and material flow of aid and support which your long continued exertions have secured to us

The Commission, indeed, can never be sufficiently grateful to the liberal and patriotic communities of the Pacific coast for coming to its aid at a time when its resources were nearly exhausted, and not only the w k when it must otherwise have p for sustaining it so freely e able it to expand and grow into proportions that seem now to command the attention and the respect of the whole country, and are forcing themselves even on the reluctant communities of Europe as subjects for inquiry and for imitation—if possible

Very respectfully and sincerely yours,
GEO T STRONG

The Work Goes Bravely On —Our dispatches this morning is full of cheering news Our losses have been terrible, and the battles of Friday and Saturday must have been terrific It is now stated that Gen Sedwick was killed —a brave and distinguished officer, whose fidelity and courage have won an eminent fame, which his death has now consecrated

Gen Grant is rapidly moving "on to Richmond" in hot pursuit of Lee's retreating forces Butler has done splendidly, and it looks very much as though he would be the first to exercise military authority in the capital of rebeldom We hope he may be, and that he will have an opportunity to ask Jeff Davis for that reward which the rebels offered for his head There would be a sort of poetic justice in his capture of Richmond, to which all the Nation would most cordially respond A few days more will tell the story, let us hope it will be full of glorious victory—of victory, crushing the last remnant of life of the infernal treason which has cost the Nation so many of its best and bravest sons.

True Spirit of Modern Democracy —In the earlier days of rebellion a Democratic meeting in Louisiana passed the following resolution.

Resolved, That while we place a high value on the Union, we place a still higher on the institution of slavery, and if unfortunately we must be compelled to part with one or the other, we cannot hesitate to part with the Union

The Democratic Convention, at Albany, though not in exact terms, yet substantially expressed the same idea in its platform It might with entire consistency have adopted such a resolution in its very words because what was adopted is in no respect any more expressive of loyalty to the Government, or of any desire for its success against the rebellion

From Pumphrey's —The steamer Express arrived from Pumphrey's Landing on the Cowlitz river, last evening, bringing about 15 passengers and a quantity of produce

Public Speaking at Oregon City

Ed Oregonian

On Monday of rogon, the fifth day of Court Hon was denied packed with citizens of Clackamas County who were anxious to hear the two candidates for Congress give their views of the great political issues of the day Mr Wallace expects to see next June. His reception was cordial and would give all his friends the hand not born humbugged into that position. Referring to the old, distinguished speeches up the valley, he said the utterances had been perpetrated on that rock by no patriot element. Mr Vallandigham there pitched much weaker ore it showed the Democratic Colonel and the American people were not to be prepared for slaves and the time would soon when some sold ambitious man would urge the sword an I bow out a shadow and thus end what they hope by no by trambled. The meeting was spectacular, in defending the heroic Kearney and Virginia soldiers from such aspersion which he said they have not deserved. The address of those resolutions, and the only animosity had is to say they have is that the democratic party did not express grievances directly by the General Government up to the State, as instructed on some of the States

The deadly issues offered by the North to the South in the growth of anti slavery sentiment and the selection of a northern President was the crowning outrage of refusing to pass the Crittenden Compromise (by which at the pleasure of slavery would have been carried over the entire United States) if it did not entirely justify the rebellion, at least made it inevitable and hunt back at Sumter was but the playful severe vindication of wounded honor, by a high typed southern gentleman acting, perhaps, under a slightly mistaken impression This is according to Col Kelly And now the long bearded bran bread Abolitionists of the North had the effrontery to propose to coerce the southern gentleman into obedience to the law and force to subjugate him if necessary to that end With this unconstitutional proceeding the Colonel had no sympathy, and intimated that if the sort were placed in power, commissioners should be at once sent South to apologized to the Chiefs, for our unjust liable conduct, and by giving them all they ask they would perhaps forgive us By a desperate effort the Colonel got one weak cheer, and after closing his harangue immediately made the stairs to escape the hooting which he knew he should get

I wish my time and your limits would permit me to go into the merits of Mr Henderson's speech For profound logic and exalted patriotism it was all that his friends could possibly desire, and a few touches of broad humor thrown into his closing twenty minutes, literally brought down the house The antediluvian fossils of 98 and 99, which Watt is supposed to have dug up and which Kelly had scattered around in an insane attempt to stand on them without, at the same time, standing by the side of Calhoun's ghost, and amongst the Davis crowd, Henderson scraped clean, so that every one could see that they were original copper, when he laid them aside where it is to be hoped they will forever remain in the graveyard of obsolete with all kindred political heresies Henderson, the people's man, made friends by his honest, straightforward frankness; gaining hearty and repeated cheering from a large majority of his audience, whose hearts are with him and with the cause he represents, and they will show a good record for him in June But I must close. Yours for the good cause,

CLACKAMAS

Up Country Mining News.—We copy the following items from the Walla Walla States man of May 6th

A man came into this city last week bringing a specimen of gold bearing quartz, which he said he found in the Blue mountains about twenty five miles distant from this city The quartz was examined by a competent judge who pronounced it rich The man who brought it in left again for the mountains, promising to return this week with a sack of the quartz to have it assayed He also stated that in the vicinity of where he obtained the quartz he found good prospects for placer diggings This story has the more interest here from the fact that a gentleman of undoubted veracity told our citizens here just fall that while out looking for his horses on the mountains somewhere between here and Grand Ronde Valley he found croppings of gold bearing quartz which he thought indicated the existence of a rich lode somewhere in the vicinity, and was only prevented from prospecting for it at the time by the snow which had just began to fall

Some three or four weeks ago a man arrived here from the Dalles, and a few days afterwards the small pox broke out upon him He had taken lodgings at Mr David Weston's, where he remained until he was cured of the disease. About the time of his recovery two or three members of Mr Weston a family were taken with the disease, and are yet down with it though in a fair way for recovery The city authorities have fenced up the streets around Mr Weston's place, and placed guards upon the ground to prevent persons from passing in and out of the enclosure. The disease need not spread unless people go where it is to catch the infection, and the plan adopted by the city authorities, it is hoped, will prevent its spreading further

Accounts from Boise represent that the market is overstocked with almost every variety of merchandise. Many merchants at the different mining camps are selling out their stocks with the intention of closing out their business so that three or four months hence when the present surplus is disposed of the competition will not be so great but that the business will again be good

The following items are from the Golden Age, April 30th

At Oro Fino those who own claims are hard at work and many are taking out their pile On Oro Fino Flat and in Rhodes Creek the water at present is very high In most of the gulch and hill claims great difficulty has been experienced in obtaining water later in the season This however will be entirely obliterated when Ankeny & Co's ditch is completed, which will be at an early day Business of all kinds is lively Both miners and traders are in the best of spirits. The only thing lacking that would contribute to our success is labor We have plenty of work for at least four hundred miners, at from $5 to $6 per day

The country to the north of us is already attracting the attention of settlers We are told that after ascending the hill from Clearwater the soil offers every inducement to the farmer and ranchero Four miles from here, along the Hatwai Creek there are fifteen hundred acres of as rich land as can be found on the Pacific coast. The table-land between the Palouse and Clearwater is already covered with grass from six to ten inches high and the Palouse bottom is extensive enough to support a large farming community. Mr Bugby left Lewiston on Tuesday last, with a full supply of farming tools and provisions, intending to establish a station at Palouse crossing about 40 miles directly north of this place

Mr Joseph Herring left four weeks since with the necessary outfit for a station at the Spokane crossing, and we learn that a party will leave this place on Saturday, to select a ranch on the Hatwai four miles from here Thus it will be seen that the new wagon road to Kootenai will not lack stations for the accommodations of the traveling public

Mr Bacon, the expressman from Elk City, arrived on Thursday last three days and a half from Elk City. He reports miners at work, and taking out almost incredible amounts daily Mr B thinks this camp excels in richness any yet struck on the coast. He reports the snow upon the mountains as very deep, but the trail hard and pleasant for foot passengers Many are returning from their winter quarters and getting ready for spring Elk City is said to present a lively appearance

Chicago, May 10—A dispatch from Secretary Stanton dated 11 M. yesterday says Dispatches just received from Grant are not quite so positive but his position is nothing to fear and he has taken 2 000 prisoners

Another dispatch from the Secretary says The following dispatches from Gen Meade have just arrived Gen Hancock passed Spotsylvania Court House at daylight on Sunday Our headquarters at one that day were 20 miles south of the battle field We have occupied Fredericksburg, where a depot for our wounded is established

New York, May 10—The Herald's special says The battles of Friday and Saturday were for the object of turning Hancock's position, and succeeded in doing the rebel colors on Hancock's breastwork Burnside coming up, Longstreet was overmatched with great precipitation Had it not been for Burnside's reinforcements the result might have been disastrous, as everything was in confusion On Sunday there was but little fighting done, as both Generals were manouvering their forces, which resulted in a complete change of the line of battle having Lee the alternative of being cut off from Richmond and risking everything on a single battle, or to retreat precipitately which he chose to do

Chicago, May 10—A Washington telegram says Information was received last night that a rebel ram in Albemarle Sound was sunk by the U S steamer Sassacus

Washington, May 10—A dispatch of the 9th from Gen Butler to Secretary Stanton says Our operations may be summed up in the following words With 1,700 cavalry we have advanced up the Peninsula, forced the Chickahominy and safely brought them to our present position There were in the command colored cavalry, and these are now holding our positions as we advance towards Richmond Gen. Kurtz, with 3 000 cavalry, made an advance from Suffolk on the same day with ours Our movement up James river forced the enemy back from the water We burned the railroad bridge over Stoney creek and struck a blow at Petersburg cutting in two Beauregard's forces at that point We have landed here (Hopewell Hundred) and intrenched ourselves, destroying the railroad We are in a position which with supplies we can hold against the whole of Lee's army. Beauregard with the main portion of his command, is left south of this point by cutting the railroad by Gen Kurtz I to day whipped that portion of the rebels which reached Petersburg under D H Hill killing wounding and capturing many. Grant will not be troubled by any further reinforcements reaching Lee from Beauregard

Washington, May 10—The Star says a messenger from Spottsylvania Court House at noon on Monday says that at the time the fight was going on, we held that place and Lee gave unmistakable signs of weakening and falling back

The number of our wounded is reported to be 15,000, the most of them are at Fredericksburg

New York, May 10,—A special to the Post says that troops are constantly arriving from the North Only about 90 men and five officers are left of the 4th Vermont.

There are 2000 or 3000 rebel wounded at Fredericksburg, who were left on the field by their friends

Official dispatches say that Gen Sedgwick was killed yesterday.

Advices from the front to 3 o'clock this afternoon say that on Sunday Gen. Warren encountered Lee's vanguard at Spottsylvania Court House, and a sharp fight ensued. Our troops were at first repulsed, but rallied and advanced with great impetuosity upon the enemy, driving him beyond the town. On Monday the artillery duel was opened and I kept up

Richmond papers contain the following Spanish edicted Orange Court House the 6th

The Federals were repulsed on the plank road near Parker's store Spotsylvania Court House The engagement lasted from noon till 8 o'clock P M

We captured 1000 prisoners in Friday's battle, and the Union troops were repulsed in every attack that day. Longstreet finally forcing them to give way

This does not agree with reports received in Washington, which indicates that the rebels made all the attacks

The Richmond Whig of the 7th says that up to the latest hour no fight had taken place on the Peninsula

Butler's movement up James river was known at 11 o clock on Thursday, and caused considerable excitement Four gunboats besides three ironclads were counted coming up 10,000 men landed at Bermuda Hundred The same paper says that Richmond is in no worse peril than when threatened by McClellan, and argues that there is no cause for panic The entire bold but the encouragement that ample reinforcements are at hand

Dalton dispatches of the 8th says the Union pickets are within 11 miles of Tunnel Hill, but are so strong that nothing could be learned of the movements of the Federal troops

Demopolis (Ala.) dispatches of the 5th state that 600 rebel cavalry engaged 5000 Yankees near Olive Branch Creek, and repulsed them with heavy loss The Yankees retreated towards Baton Rouge.

Gen Ellery with 10,000 infantry and two batteries had moved towards Yazoo City.

A Charleston telegram says that nearly 300 shells were thrown at Sumter, between Friday noon and Saturday night, and 10 on Sunday.

Chicago, May 11.—A special from Washington says that the rebels have a large entrenched depot of supplies on the northern line of defence towards which Lee is directing his retreat Grant is following him He will be leaving his base of supplies but his men have rations for several days with them At Bermuda Hundred the fighting commenced at noon yesterday and continued until midnight, between several of our brigades under Gen. Smith and the rebels under Gen Beauregard in person Our troops drove them back three miles, nearly to Petersburg We hold the railroad between there and Richmond

New York, May 11—Dispatches from Secretary Stanton says some hard fighting was going on at Spottsylvania but there was no general battle Our army is reported as in excellent condition, and with complete supplies

Allen Wright is in command of Sedgwick's corps

Grant did not design to renew the attack yesterday, being engaged in replenishing from his supply train, so that he could advance without it

Chicago, May 11—A bill appropriating 300 000 dollars for the erection of a Branch Mint at San Francisco passed the Senate yesterday

A substitute from the Committee on the Pacific railroad for the bill now before the Senate was reported.

Washington May 10—It is believed from reports which reached here to night no General engagement took place yesterday but as heavy firing was heard this morning at Acquia Creek in the direction of Spottsylvania, the contest must have been renewed Our forces does not occupy the latter place, but are within several miles of it

Large numbers of the wounded are reaching Fredericksburg Many officers are wounded and more expected to arrive at Washington to morrow

Washington May 10—The Army of the Potomac had a portion of its army to recuperate

Burnside on Monday, began the attack on the left wing with great fury and to use his own words whipped old Longstreet.

Our army could not be in a more cheerful condition and I count the days when they shall invest the rebel capital

Lee lately issued an order in relation to supplies in which he stated that communications with Richmond were cut off, and it was impossible to furnish his men with stores Hill's men had no rations issued to them for three days Lee promised upon his men the necessity of capturing supplies from the Yankees Up to this moment they have failed to capture a single wagon

Gen Torbett's calvary division whipped the rebel cavalry near the [illegible] and drove them from [illegible] Pennsylvania while being [illegible] from the [illegible] of the rebel [illegible] and [illegible] were [illegible]

On Monday heavy fighting was also at Drought [illegible] and by no reports [illegible]

From Boise — We are in receipt of the Boise News of April 30th, from which we obtain the following extracts, showing a very encouraging beginning in mining operations in that country The News says

Our readers will perceive by reference to the shipping list [illegible] This unprecedented [illegible] is due to the enterprise of Messrs Allman & Kenbody A want of water in the [illegible] has prevented [illegible] claims along the [illegible] two months per annum from Tuesday night from a single stand pipe in front of our office The ringing of shovels as the miners [illegible] from the blade, is distinctly audible above the murmur of the water in the sluice combining with the haze and smoke through which the mountains beyond are dimly visible, to render it a scene both interesting and lovely

Ben Ellis stopped on Last Chance Bar, one and a half miles below Warm Springs, returning but finely After a run of [illegible] days with four men they cleaned up one pint of dust on Saturday last and took it away, two ounces of gold [illegible] to clean up the string Monday, and a great luck we will give it, to all of the weeks run, together with that of other companies along the creek

RAINIER.—This locality, on the Columbia river, opposite the mouth of the Cowlitz, was at one time quite a place, and in early days did more business than all other points below the Cascades on the Columbia, commanding the trade of the Cowlitz country, and affording dock room for most of the sea going crafts employed in this trade at that time. But like the rise of other towns in the progress of those days, it was not permanent, and Rainier went down. For some years past we have heard but very little of it—one by one the best houses of the place have been removed, until but few remained. There is now, however, a prospect that Rainier will again revive a little and become at least the popular abode of a few people, who may consider themselves "at home," to engage in the manufacture of lumber. The only mill in the place at present is Blanchard & Truitt's, which cuts from 5,000 to 7,000 feet of lumber every day. There is a comfortable hotel in Rainier, some ten or fifteen private dwellings, and soon to be a store. There is quite an extent of farming land below, and back of Rainier, which some day will become a valuable auxiliary to the town.

REPORTED INDIAN TROUBLES.—Passengers by the Cowlitz steamer inform us that a report was current at Olympia on Friday last, brought by Mr. Sidney Ford, the Mail carrier from Chehalis, to the effect that an engagement had taken place between a band of Indians, belonging to the Quilleyute's, and a detachment of United States soldiers, in the vicinity of Gray's Harbor, resulting in the loss of 15 or 20 soldiers. The report is unauthenticated, but it is known difficulty has been threatened in that quarter for several months. The trouble is supposed to have arisen from an effort to arrest the murderers of Cook; an employee on the Quinemult reservation, who was killed last December. The Quilleyutes are reported to be a small band, but exceedingly hostile and savage. But little is known of them, as they have never yet permitted the whites to penetrate their country very far.

FROM THE KOOTENAI.—Captain Ankeny returned on the steamer New World last evening from a trip to the upper country, and brings with him some fine specimens of the Kootenai country gold, assays of which will be made in the city to-day. These new discoveries have attracted considerable attention already, and parties direct from there report the diggings extensive and rich, with an abundance of water for mining purposes. There is quite an excitement growing out of these reports, and hundreds of adventurers are now pursuing the Kootenai trail—let us hope for a realization of the bright prospect. Our news from the upper country is all very flattering.

STRAWBERRIES.—Farmers are unanimous in saying that the crop of peaches, cherries, plums, etc., have nearly been destroyed by the recent frosts, but we learn of persons late ly visiting East Portland, that the most luxurious of all fruits: strawberries, have ripened, and soon parties may enjoy the pleasure of gathering this delicious berry from its parent stem, which, with a slight intermingling of cream, is n't bad to take.

AQUINA BAY ROAD.—A correspondent at Corvallis informs us that work on the Aquina Bay road commenced on Tuesday morning. Some 75 teams were employed the first day, and it is intended that the road will be completed through to the head of tide water the present season. The distance to the bay from Corvallis is about 40 miles.

OUT OF LOGS.—Messrs Harbaugh & Stitzel have been obliged to close their mill for the want of logs! This appears queer when it is known, that we live in a wooden country, but it is true that good logs are scarce. We saw several sections of logs in tow of the steamer Leviathan a few days since, that were brought from the vicinity of Springville.

GOVERNMENT PACKET.—We learn from Mr. A. B. Gibson that the schooner Ellen will return to Tillamook, upon the accomplishment of the trip for which she is now loading in this city, and her place will be supplied by the schooner Harvest Queen of San Francisco, which is a larger boat, and better adapted to the business of carrying building materials.

STEAMER SENATOR.—We were mistaken in stating that the steamer Senator would remain in Oregon City every other night. Only on Monday and Thursday will the boat stop up there, so as to leave Oregon City, on Tuesday and Friday mornings. On Wednesday and Saturday there will be but one trip, leaving Portland at 8 o'clock, and returning at 2 P. M.

THE CROPS along the Columbia river bottoms are reported to be in fine condition, and promising. The river continues to rise, and in some places the farmers are apprehensive of danger, and have taken measures to remove their stock in case the flood should reach their premises.

FOUND ASSISTANCE.—A man started from the mouth of Lewis river in a small boat on Tuesday, intending to paddle his way to this city, but having a cargo of produce found it slow work, until the steamer Cowlitz came along and took his craft in tow, landing him safe at the foot of Salmon street that evening.

THE SIERRA NEVADA.—The steamer Sierra Nevada leaves about 300 tons of freight on this trip, at Portland. She does not sail until 6 o'clock this evening. Our statement that she would leave this morning was a mistake.

THE FRONT STREET BRIDGE near the Penitentiary, is in a very bad condition, and persons crossing it should use the utmost precaution. We believe it has been declared unfit for use, and if so it should be removed, if not it should be repaired.

THE steamer Vancouver, Capt. Turnbull, arrived at 11 o'clock yesterday morning with the schooner Ellen in tow. At 3 o'clock P. M. she returned to Vancouver, loaded to the guards with freight for the Government sutlers—Crawford, Slocum & Co.

THE steamer New World carried 75 passengers and 100 tons of freight to the Cascades yesterday. Returning, arrived about 5 o'clock with 40 passengers, and Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, containing $60,000 in gold bullion.

RECOVERING.—Two of the disabled sailors of the bark Ocean Bird, have so far recovered as to be out again. The others are doing as well as could be expected.

ONE OF THE OLD SETTLERS.—Our friend T. McF. Patton, whom everybody knows from Portland to Jacksonville, as a whole hearted, clever fellow, leaves on the Sierra Nevada this evening, for a trip to the east. He has been in Oregon for many years, and has filled many public positions very acceptably. We wish him a pleasant journey and after a reasonable stay among his Atlantic friends, we expect him back again. Wherever you go, Tom, look and speak well for the west.

AN ITEM FROM CHINA.—Hongkong is to be blessed with a new coin, which will do away with the miserable substitutes for change so long current. The new coinage consists of dimes, cents and mills, in exact accordance with our currency. The mills are to take the place of the copper "cash," and have a hole drilled in them after the Chinese fashion, for the purpose of stringing them.

SEWING MACHINES—SEE HOW THEY GO.—It is a real satisfaction to see sewing-machines traveling over the land, and especially to see them making their way into so many parsonages. How one lightens the labor and care of a patient, toiling mother. Many a poor minister's wife has been saved thereby from overwork, and an from consumption and an early grave. Hence we rejoice to see them go, and are glad to speed them on their way. A clergyman from Minnesota, who called on us this week, could not leave New York without taking back this invaluable accompaniment. He went to Grover & Baker's, and we believe picked out the best he could find in the whole establishment. We are sure he got his money's worth.—New York Evangelist.

J. W. J. PIERSON, Agent for Portland.

NOT TOO GOOD.—If you buy the best you buy the cheapest. Shields has the best, most general and well selected stock of boots and shoes to be seen in this market. We do not propose to advise, but an examination of his stock before buying elsewhere is our reasonable conclusion.

Willamette No. 1.—Drill this evening at 7½ o'clock.

Oppression after Eating.—Many persons, after an ordinary meal, feel a sense of weight and discomfort in the region of the stomach, the sure sign of an imperfect digestion, and probably the forerunner of a settled dyspepsia. Nothing will relieve this oppression like the PERUVIAN SYRUP. acts in a wonderful manner in stimulating the liver to the proper performance of its duty.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties, and it is recommended to mothers, enfeebled by the cares and duties of maternity, as the safest and best tonic they can probably use. In all the crisis of female life it will be found eminently useful, and elderly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants.—Sold by all Druggists and Dealers everywhere. ap26d1m

The Last Words of Stephen A. Douglas to his Countrymen.

HIS LAST SPEECH,

Delivered at Chicago, May 1st, 1861, in reply to a Welcome Address in behalf of the City authorities and people of Chicago, made by T. B. Bryan, Esq. Senator Douglas said:

SIR: I thank you for the kind terms in which you have been pleased to welcome me. I thank the committee, I thank the citizens of Chicago, for this grand and imposing reception. But I beg you to believe that I will not do you nor myself the injustice to suppose for a moment that this ovation is intended as a mere personal homage to myself. I rejoice in the knowledge that it is a forcible embodiment and expression of your devotion to the constitution, the Union, and the flag of the country. [Cheers.] I will not conceal my gratification at the incontrovertible testimony which this vast assemblage presents, that however differences of opinion on political topics and partisan questions may have divided us, yet you all have a conviction that when the country would be in danger my loyalty may be relied upon. [Cheers.]

That the danger to this country is now imminent, no man can conceal from his thoughts, no matter how much he may desire to avert the evil. If war must come, if the bayonet must be used to maintain social order and constitutional liberty, I can only say before God that I feel my conscience is clear of all responsibility for the consequences that may follow. I have struggled as long as there was hope, and even after hope had almost disappeared, for the peaceful solution of all these difficulties. I have not only tendered to these discontented States full and ample justice, but I have gone further, to the utmost extremity of magnanimity and generosity. The return that we have received, is war upon the Government, the marching of hostile armies to reduce our national capital, the destruction of our commerce on the great father of waters, the issuing of letters of marque to pirates to commit depredations on our commerce on the high seas, and a concerted movement to blot out the United States of America from the map of the world. [Applause.] The simple question is whether we will maintain the government established by our fathers, or allow it to be stricken down by those who when they can no longer govern, endeavor to destroy it.

What is the cause of all this great calamity now being inflicted upon us? What excuse do these disunionists give for breaking up the best government that the sun of heaven ever shed its beams upon? [Immense applause.] They are dissatisfied with the result of a Presidential election. Did they never get beaten before? [Laughter.] Are we to tolerate the idea that a defeated party in a national election may resort to the sword, when defeated by the popular will? I understand it to be a fundamental and indispensable principle of constitutional liberty that the voice of the people expressed according to the forms of the constitution must command the implicit obedience of every good citizen. [Applause.] They choose to assume that the election of a particular candidate carries the presumption that their rights are not safe in the Union. What evidence is there to sustain that presumption? I defy any man on earth to show me any one act done, of which they can complain, as placing their rights in jeopardy. [Applause.] What one act has been omitted to be done, of which they can complain? I proclaim to these assembled thousands that, so far as the constitutional rights of the Southern States are concerned,—so far as the rights of slaveholders are concerned,—not one act has been done, not one duty has been omitted to be done, under this administration of which they can complain. [Applause.]

There has not been a day from the time when George Washington was inaugurated as the first President of the United States down to this moment, when the rights of the Southern States stood firmer under the laws of the land than they do to-day. [Applause.] There has never been a time when those States have not had as good cause for disunion as they have to-day. What specific cause can they assign as existing now, which has not existed under every administration from the days of Washington to this moment?

If you refer to the territorial question, it so happened as an extraordinary fact that for the first time, there is not an act of Congress prohibiting slavery anywhere. [Applause.]

If you refer to the enforcement of the laws, the only complaint made has been, there has been rather too much energy and vigor employed in the enforcement of the fugitive slave law. I ask what excuse can these disunionists of the south urge for their scheme to break up this government? The slavery question is a mere excuse. [Applause.]

The election of Mr. Lincoln is a mere pretext. The present secession movement is the result of a tremendous, enormous conspiracy formed more than a year ago. [Cheers.] This conspiracy to break up this Union, was formed by the leaders in the Southern Confederacy more than twelve months ago. They use the slavery question as a means to accomplish their desired end. They desired a northern man to be elected President by a sectional vote in order to consider that as evidence that the sections could not live in peace, and so they might break up the Union. [Applause.] Whenever the history of the last two years shall be written, whenever the history of this country from the time that the Lecompton constitution was originated down to the last Presidential election shall be written, it will appear that the scheme was formed to break up this Union. They desired to break it up, using the slavery question as a pretext, to elect the Republican candidate by a purely northern vote, against an united south, and then assign that fact as a reason why we could not live together. The scheme agreed upon in Washington last May was for the disunion candidate to carry every southern State, and Mr. Lincoln every northern State, and the disunionists then were to seize possession of the Federal Government, issue orders to the army and navy, under the seal of the United States. They expected to have possession of the government, and they relied upon a divided North and united South, and thus bring civil war to our doors. The scheme was only defeated by the defeat of the disunion candidate in Kentucky, Missouri, Tennessee and Virginia. [Applause.] Whenever the history shall be written, it will record that grand conspiracy, and the present disunion movement as the result of it.

But this is not the time to go into a discussion of the causes that have produced these results. The conspiracy to break up the Union is a fact now known to all. Armies are being raised and war levied to accomplish it. There can be but two sides to the controversy. [Applause.] EVERY MAN MUST BE ON THE SIDE OF THE UNITED STATES OR AGAINST IT. [Immense applause, cheers and cries of "good," "good," etc.] There can be no neutrals in this war. [Prolonged cheers.] There can be none but patriots and traitors. [Applause.] Thank God! Illinois will not be divided on that question. [Cheers.] I know that they have expected to present a united South against a divided North. The conspirators have been led to hope that in the Northern States, it would be made a party question, producing civil war between Democrats and Republicans, and the South, being united, could step in with their legions and help the one to destroy the other, and conquer the victor. [Laughter and applause.] Their schemes were bloodshed and all the horrors of civil war in every northern State! There is one way to prevent it:—united action on the part of Illinois; closing up the ranks, renders it impossible that war shall rage on our soil. [Applause.]

I repeat that so long as it was possible to settle this question by peaceful means, I was willing to make any reasonable sacrifice for that purpose, but when the question comes whether the war shall be transferred from the cotton fields of the South to the corn fields of Illinois, I choose to say that the further off that war be the better. [Applause.]

War does exist. It is a sad thought to every patriot. War, civil war—must be recognized as existing in the United States. We may no longer close our eyes to that solemn fact. This government must be maintained, the enemies of the country overthrown, and the more stupendous and overwhelming our preparations, the less bloodshed and the shorter the struggle.

But my countrymen, we must remember that there are certain restraints upon men's actions in time of war. We must never forget that we are a civilized and Christian people, and that war must be prosecuted only for purposes, and in the mode recognized by Christian nations. There must not be a war waged against the constitutional rights of any people on earth; nor must it be war against women and children and innocent persons. Savages must not be let loose, nor the horrors of indiscriminate destruction encouraged. I say to you I will never sanction such acts of warfare upon the rights of others, but I will beseech and implore my countrymen never to lay down their arms, until they recognize our constitutional rights. [Loud and prolonged cheers and applause.]

We were born under the Constitution of the United States. Its provisions and its guarantees are our birthright. [Applause.] I am then prepared to demand and enforce that unalienable right to the last extremity. [Applause and cheers.] We have peculiar reasons, from our position, in the centre of this continent, why we cannot recognize the right of any number of States to secede at their pleasure and break up our government. When you admit the right of one State to secede, you concede the right of every State to do the same thing. When you recognize the right of secession you not only destroy the government, but destroy social order. You have uprooted all the foundations of society, and inaugurated anarchy in its worst forms, and will soon experience all the horrors of the French revolution.

Then, my friends, we have a solemn duty to perform. It is to use all the powers that God has given us to maintain the constitution and government our fathers established for us. The more energy and unanimity we display in the performance of this great duty, the less will be the destruction of life and property, and the sooner will come the day of peace.

I am aware that we have had some difficulty and prejudice to encounter in producing unanimity. It is not surprising that such should have been the case. We must remember that it has been but a few short months since we came out of a fierce political strife which engendered much bitterness of feeling. It takes some little time to banish those passions from the human heart and substitute unalloyed patriotism in their place. Whoever is not prepared to sacrifice party organizations and platforms on the altar of his country, does not deserve the support and countenance of honest people. [Cheers.] How are we to overcome partisan sympathies in the minds of men of all parties, so as to present a united front in support of our country? We must cease discussing party issues, make no allusion to old party tests, have no criminations and recriminations, indulge in no taunts one against the other as to who has been the cause of these troubles. [Applause.]

When we shall have rescued the government and country from its perils, and seen its flag floating in triumph over every inch of American soil, it will then be time enough to enquire as to who and what has brought these troubles upon us. [Applause.] When we shall have a country and a government for our children to live in peace and happiness, it will be time for each of us to return to our party banners according to our own convictions of right and duty. [Applause.] Let him be marked as no true patriot who will not abandon all such issues in time like this. [Applause.] My countrymen, I have said more than I intended when I commenced. [Shouts of "Go on," "Go on."]

It is a sad task to enter into a discussion of a question of this magnitude, involving consequences so fearful as must result from this terrible conflict; but sad as it is, bloody and disastrous as I expect it will be, I believe, and protest my sincere conviction before God, that it is the duty of every American patriot to rally around the constitution and the flag of his country. [Great cheering.]

I renew to you my expressions of grateful acknowledgment for this magnificent and imposing demonstration. It is the evidence of your loyalty and devotion to the flag of your country. You are prepared to show by this demonstration, a desire to lay aside all partisan feeling, and unite in support of all true men, in the tented field, in the councils of the nation, and wherever else a man may make himself most useful.

Illinois occupies a proud position. United, prepared to defend our rights, demanding nothing more than the constitution has given, and determined never to permit this government to be destroyed. I thank you once more.

PERUVIAN SYRUP,
OR PROTECTED
Solution of Protoxide of Iron,
Has been used with Great Success in Curing
DYSPEPSIA,
Affections of the Liver, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Bronchitis and Consumptive Tendencies, Disordered State of the Blood, Female Complaints, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Scurvy, the prostration effects of Lead or Mercury, GENERAL DEBILITY,
and all Diseases which require a
Tonic and Alterative Medicine.
THE PROOFS OF ITS EFFICACY are so numerous, so well authenticated, and of such peculiar character, that sufferers cannot reasonably hesitate to receive the proffered aid.
The class of diseases for which the Syrup proffers a cure, is precisely that which has so often baffled the highest order of medical skill. The facts are tangible, the witnesses accessible, and its safety and efficacy of the Syrup incontrovertible.
From well-known Citizens of Boston.
The undersigned having experienced the beneficial effects of the "Peruvian Syrup," do not hesitate to recommend it to the attention of the public:
Rev JOHN PIERPONT, THOMAS C AMORY,
THOMAS A. DEXTER, PETER HARVEY,

Certificate of Dr. Hayes.
It is well known that the medicinal effect of Protoxide of Iron is lost by even a very brief exposure to air, and that to maintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron, without further oxidation, has been deemed impossible.
In the Peruvian Syrup, this desirable point is attained by combination in a way before unknown, and this solution may replace all the proto carbonates, citrates and tartrates of the Materia Medica. A. A. HAYES, M D,

IODINE WATER.
IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERY of modern chemistry, and it is impossible to over-estimate its influence as a remedial agent. Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medica, and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is to act upon the HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM,
and to have great control over
SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.
Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation, it remained almost useless, until Dr Henry Anders, a physician and chemist of New York, after years of patient labor and experiment, discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve
PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER,
without a solvent. This, considered impossible by the scientific world, is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr. J. R. Chilton of this city, and Prof. Booth U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended to practitioners (see "American Medical Monthly," July 3, 1858, page 70.)
This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc.
AS A TONIC
Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body, is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.
THE OPERATION OF THIS PALATABLE REMEDY upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties.
Invigorate the System.
Vigorous digestion and pure bile produce nutritious blood, and nutritious blood a healthy frame. Does the victim of a dyspeptic stomach and a disordered liver desire to know how the digestion may be improved, the bile and other fluids of the body purified?
Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters
Will accomplish this desirable revolution in the system, regulating the secretions and excretions, giving tone to the animal juices which dissolve the food, strengthen every relaxed nerve, muscle and fibre, and bring the whole machinery of vitality into vigorous and healthful play.
Strengthen the System.
The best means of imparting vigor to the broken-down frame and shattered constitution, which has yet been invented or discovered, is proffered to the feeble of both sexes and all ages in
Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.
Debility, from whatever cause arising, may be cured; strength, in whatever manner it may have been wasted, may be restored by the use of this powerful and healthy invigorant. For indigestion and all its painful effects, bodily and mental, they are a positive specific.
A word to the Aged.
In the decline of life the lack of vital force consequent upon physical decay can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits, without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We confer to the aged—
Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters,
As an invigorant and restorative, immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effects. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite, and acts like a charm upon the spirits.
For Females,
Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility, and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and enlightens the depressed mental powers, as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any reaction.

MEDICAL WONDER
The stooping, trembling victim of depressing and debilitating vice sees a new man; he straightens, he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom of an almost idiotic imbecility, is bright and active, and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor. The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.
